

A Comprehensive Picture Story of the Washington Theater Disaster

This photograph was made just after daylight following the collapse of the Knickerbocker Theater, Washington, D. C., in which scores lost their lives and several hundred were injured. Soldiers are shown clearing away the wreckage, with the stage in the background. Soldiers on the right are carrying out the dead on stretchers. In the immediate foreground is a portion of the snow-laden roof which crashed without warning upon the audience. This roof gave way under the heaviest snowstorm the capital has experienced in years.

SCHOOL FOR ADULT

ILLITERATES IN JUNE.

(By Max Abernethy.)

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—Miss Elizabeth Kelly, director of schools for adult illiterates, of the State Department of Education, announces that the school of Education for teaching adult beginners will be held this year from June 19 to June 30 in connection with the Asheville Normal School at Asheville.

An effort is now being made by Miss Kelly to have one or more women from each county in the State to attend this school of instruction, and she is calling upon women's clubs and other organizations in each county to select a capable woman who with the approval of the county superintendent of schools shall cooperate with him in the work of teaching adult beginners. In counties with large city school systems it is suggested that a special worker for each city be named. The clubs making the selections are asked to provide expenses of their teacher to the school.

"The plan of organizing a school of education for teaching native adult beginners grew out of the following needs," said Miss Kelly: "The vital interest and support of the public; authoritative leadership; an intelligent coordination of existing public agencies; a greater number of trained teachers, and adequate public funds.

"In order to meet these needs it is our purpose to bring into this school one or more women from each county in our State. The business of these women will be primarily to find the best methods of attacking the native adult illiteracy problem in their own counties and to link the work up with the public schools and other agencies by which it must be done. So that women may be given definite and intensive training for teaching native adult beginners, the following courses are offered:

"1.—Methods for organizing and conducting community schools for adult beginners; 10 hours by Elizabeth Kelly. 2.—Texts, materials, methods, and outlines of subjects to be used in teaching adult beginners; 20 hours by Mrs. Elizabeth Morris. 3.—Plays, songs, games and contests to be used in community schools; 10 hours by Alton C. Roberts."

These instructors will be assisted by members of the summer school faculty who are especially trained to teach certain phases of the required subjects in each course. Workers from other states will give in lectures accounts of the outstanding features of their plans and results obtained.

EARTH WAS SLIPPING INTO

NEW CENTER OF ROTATION.

New York, Jan. 31.—The earth in its dizzying whirl through space got off center for a few moments today and shifted its "poles" or axis to fit the new center of rotation.

Then in order that it might not be traveling on a "flat wheel" so to speak, a few millions tons of solid rock, somewhere off the western coast of the United States, in the bed of the Pacific ocean, "slipped" a millimetre and a half to even things up.

This is the manner in which professors of geology and seismographic observers account for the violent earth vibrations which demoralized instruments in observatories throughout this country today. Thus far the exact locations of the huge "slip" has not been determined, although observers from Washington, D. C., to Berkeley, California, agree that it probably was a few hundred miles off the mouth of the Columbia river.

The absence of a recorded disruption of the visible surface of the earth, or of the huge tidal waves which usually radiate from the scene of an earthquake, lead the observers to believe the "slip" occurred miles below the bed of the ocean. Its violence was attested by the quivering seismographs which in some instances were thrown from the recording rolls, while a "strong machine" at Berkeley was set in motion for the first time in many years.

"No doubt the earth was readjusting itself," said Professor J. J. Lynch, seismographic observer at Fordham University here.

"About every so often the earth becomes upset, goes off center, changes its axis, and usually, about the same time there is a violent earthquake, a slipping of miles of strata, and we go merrily along again."

"DON'T TELL EVERYTHING."

A real polo game in motion picture is one of the novelties of "Don't Tell Everything" the new Paramount all-star production which is to be shown at the Wilson theatre next Monday Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter will be seen in the leading roles and Sam Wood, who directed "The Great Moment," Elinor Glyn's story for Gloria Swanson, handled the megaphone.

The polo game was really a Southern California sporting event. It was held July 23, 1921 at Riverside in the Chemawa Park polo grounds there. It was a match contest between the Everley Hills and Chemawa Park far the exact locations of the huge "slip" has not been determined, al-
